

The Worshipful Company of Water Conservators

You are cordially invited to join the Water Conservators' October Webinar

Restoring Nature in the UK's National Parks

Thursday 24th October 2024 6.00pm to 7.15pm

Presented by Naomi Conway, Director, National Parks Partnerships
And Ross Powell, Palladium Group

Broads National Park

About this Webinar

The UK's National Parks, landscapes such as the Cairngorms, Lake District and Dartmoor, that cover 10% of Great Britain, are a vital nature resource. But nature is struggling in them, and action needs to be taken to restore peatland, plant more woodland, improve water quality and increase biodiversity.

In 2021, the National Parks launched a collaboration with Palladium called Revere. Revere scales nature-based solutions to restore landscapes across the UK's National Parks and beyond to tackle the climate emergency and biodiversity crisis.

This webinar will share Revere's key learnings and will highlight why innovative partnerships between those restoring nature and the private sector are so crucial.

About the Speakers

Naomi Conway is Director of National Parks Partnerships (NPP) providing strategic leadership for national partnerships between the commercial sector and the UK's 15 National Parks. In this role she has helped to establish 'Revere', an award-winning collaboration between NPP and Palladium that is leveraging private finance at scale to restore nature in protected landscapes. Prior to NPP, she was Head of Development at the National Portrait Gallery, and also Development Director at the Prince's Foundation for Children & the Arts.

Ross Powell is helping to deliver private investment into UK nature at an unprecedented pace and scale as part of Palladium's Nature-based Solutions team. Ross' role is to identify ethically aligned business and investment partners and connect them with the portfolio of high quality, large-scale projects within the UK National Park network and beyond. He helps businesses and investors engage with UK nature.
